i say is a market research company that pays you for your opinion for every survey you complete you are awarded points throughout the year you will also receive loyalty points for the more surveys you finish once you have enough points you can exchange them for items from the marketplace or gift cards these include tesco starbucks john lewis marks and spencer and of course amazon as with other shopping portals you simply create a membership with mypoints and then click on the store you want to shop at through the mypoints website then your purchases will be tracked by mypoints and you ll earn rewards you can also take online surveys through mypoints to earn rewards you can also explore the microsoft rewards page for opportunities to earn more points for example you can earn points by taking a quiz learning how to use the rewards program taking a tour of products and more you have to check this page in a regular basis as it s always changing with new opportunities cnet editors independently choose every product and service we cover though we can t review every available financial company or offer we strive to make comprehensive rigorous comparisons in order to highlight the best of them for many of these products and services we earn a commission the compensation we receive may impact how products and links appear on our site from apple devices and smart tvs to household essentials and more you can find anything and everything on sale right now at amazon there are also always major sales events going on for example right now you can save on laptops from just about every big brand out there the general gist of it is that you will be taking photos of any job adverts that you see in store windows you know when you re walking around the shops and you see signs like store manager needed 30 hours a week these are the ones you want to take pics of a survey site with a bit of a difference surveyeah allows you to join panels for products that have yet to be released and share your thoughts once the panel has completed you will be paid and you can then withdraw your earnings as amazon vouchers
