but do you know what your snapchat score means like many frustrating snapchat features your score appears to be illogical but don't worry here's some basic info about what your snapchat score is and ways you can improve it

snapchat does not make their exact scoring metrics available to the public as a result it's impossible to say which actions weigh most heavily in your snapchat score it's not even clear whether different actions are weighted or whether they all count equally all we can say for sure is that it's calculated using snapchat's super secret special equation to quickly improve your snapchat score you can always do it the old fashioned way just use snapchat more often being more active on snapchat can help you build a following and ultimately get you influencer status snapchat has a feature called snapchat score that keeps track of the number of snaps that you send and receive you can increase your snapchat score by sending and receiving more snaps one way to do this is to make daily streaks a daily streak is when you send and receive snaps with the same person for consecutive days snapchat gives you both a star and a number next to the person's name to indicate how many days you have been on a streak the longer the streak the more points you get making daily streaks is a great way to increase your snapchat score quickly plus it's also a lot of fun each time you send a snap or take part in a qualified activity your snap score does not change when snapchat refreshes your score there is nearly always a wait use the help link in snapchat's settings to obtain support if you've discovered that despite taking the aforementioned actions your snap score has remained constant for several days your snap score is right on your snapchat profile page you can check your snap score anytime you want so can your mutual friends here's how to check your snap score in the snapchat app on android or iphone
